THE ORDER OF MORNING WORSHIP
TWELFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

10:00 AM JUNE 21, 2020

FOCUSING UPON GOD'S PRESENCE AND VOICE

PRELUDE "From All that Dwell Below the Skies" DAVID N. JOHNSON

WELCOME AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

CALL TO WORSHIP BY HILDEGARD OF BINGEN

Leader: To the Trinity be praise! God is music, God is life that nurtures every creature in its kind. Our God is the song of the angel throng and the splendor of secret ways hid from all humankind, but God, our life is the life of all.

OPENING PRAYER

HYMN #374 "This Is My Father's World" TERRA BEATA

LITANY OF AFFIRMATION

Leader: We know that God is slow to anger and quick to forgive. We know the steadfast love of the Lord endures forever. We also know that grace is a free gift. Therefore, we know we can approach the throne of grace with all that we are, even when we've fallen short of all God calls us to be. We confess those ways we messed up and, trusting in God's forgiveness, we place ourselves in God's hands.

People: Holy God, Creator of all that is, Donor of Grace, and Giver of Life: Hear our prayer. There are chasms in our lives, deep valleys that separate us from one another and from You. We confess that we have allowed those rifts to grow, for fear of admitting our part in the separation, for fear of being rejected when we reach out. You call us to a reconciled life, to healed relationships, to a wholeness with each other and with You. Mend us, we pray, and make us new creations. Through the power and love of Christ, in whose name we pray. Amen.

ASSURANCE OF FORGIVENESS

SHARING THE PEACE

Leader: Since God has forgiven us, let us also forgive one another. The peace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

People: And also with you.

Leader: Let us share our forgiven joy with one another.

HYMN OF ASSURANCE #581 GLORIA PATRI

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be,
World without end. Amen, Amen.

THE WORD OF GOD TO THE CHURCH

PRAYER FOR ILLUMINATION

FIRST SCRIPTURE LESSON PSALM 86:1-10, 16-17

[1]Incline your ear, O LORD, and answer me, for I am poor and needy.
[2]Preserve my life, for I am devoted to you; save your servant who trusts in you. You are my God;
[3]be gracious to me, O Lord, for to you do I cry all day long.
[4]Gladden the soul of your servant, for to you, O Lord, I lift up my soul.
[5]For you, O Lord, are good and forgiving, abounding in steadfast love to all who call on you.
[6]Give ear, O LORD, to my prayer; listen to my cry of supplication.
[7]In the day of my trouble I call on you, for you will answer me.
[8]There is none like you among the gods, O Lord, nor are there any works like yours.
[9]All the nations you have made shall come and bow down before you, O Lord, and shall glorify your name.
[10]For you are great and do wondrous things; you alone are God.
[16]Turn to me and be gracious to me; give your strength to your servant; save the child of your serving girl.
[17]Show me a sign of your favor, so that those who hate me may see it and be put to shame, because you, LORD, have helped me and comforted me.

SECOND SCRIPTURE LESSON MATTHEW 8:14-17
(FROM "THE VOICE" TRANSLATION)

14 Jesus went to Peter's house, and there He saw Peter's mother-in-law lying in bed, sick and burning up with a fever. 15 Jesus touched her hand, and then she was healed—the fever vanished. She got up from bed and began to wait on Him.
16 Toward nighttime many people who were possessed by demons were brought to Jesus, and He said one word of command and drove the demons out, healing everyone who was sick. 17 These miraculous healings fulfilled what the prophet Isaiah had predicted:
He took our infirmities upon Himself,
and He bore our diseases.[a]

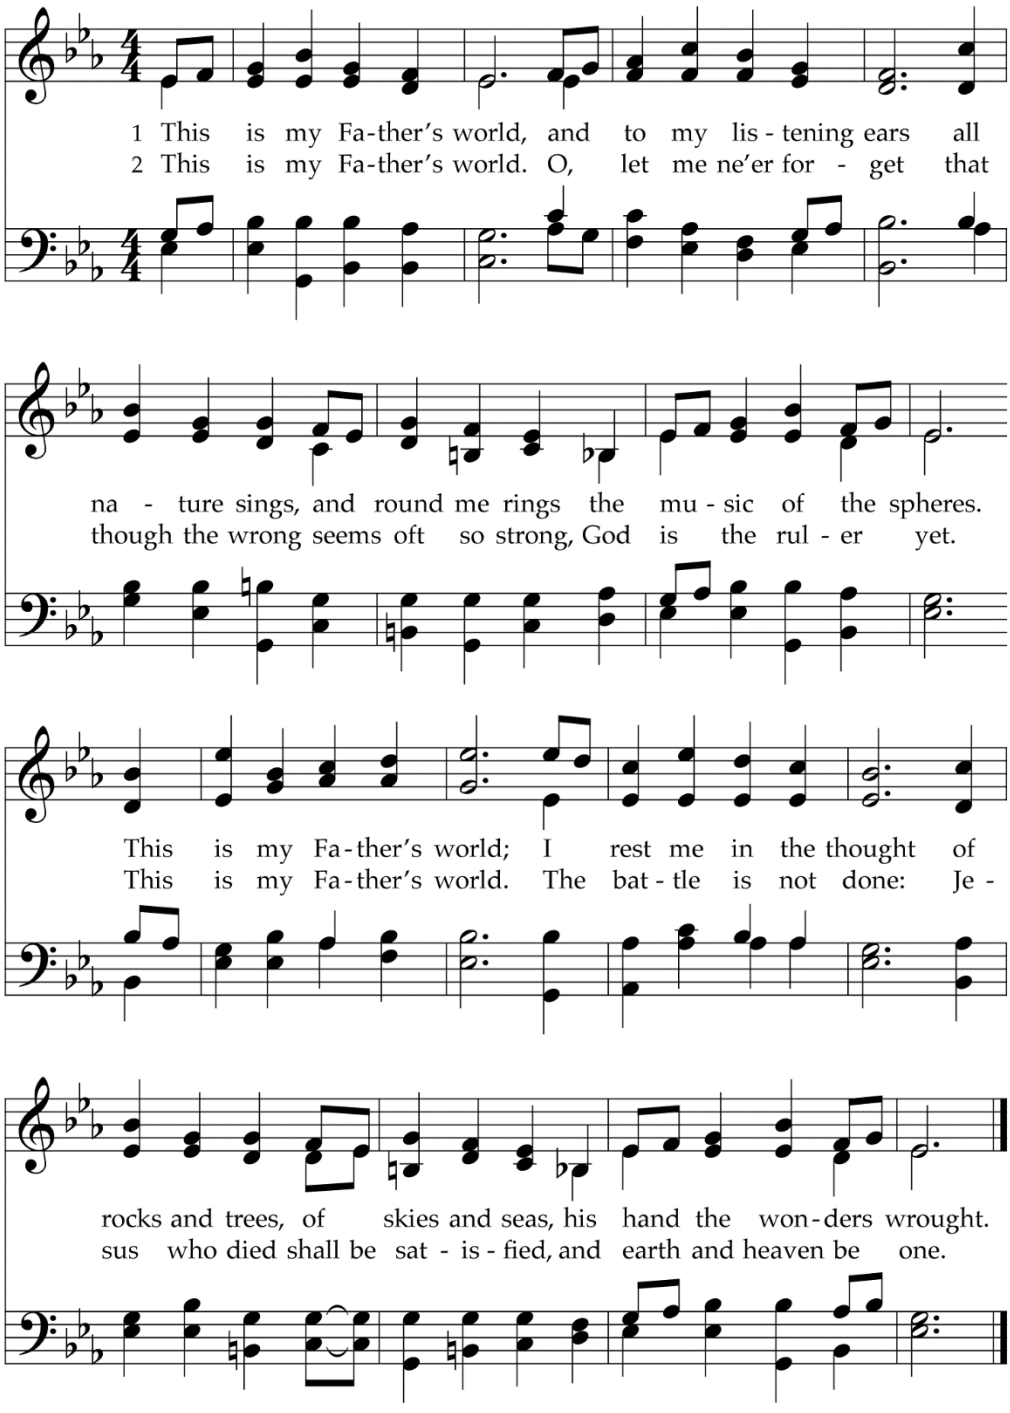
This Is My Father's World 370



When pastor of a Presbyterian church in Lockport, New York, the author of this text referred to his morning walks as "going out to see my Father's world." The tune created for these words is based on an English melody the composer learned from his mother when he was a boy.

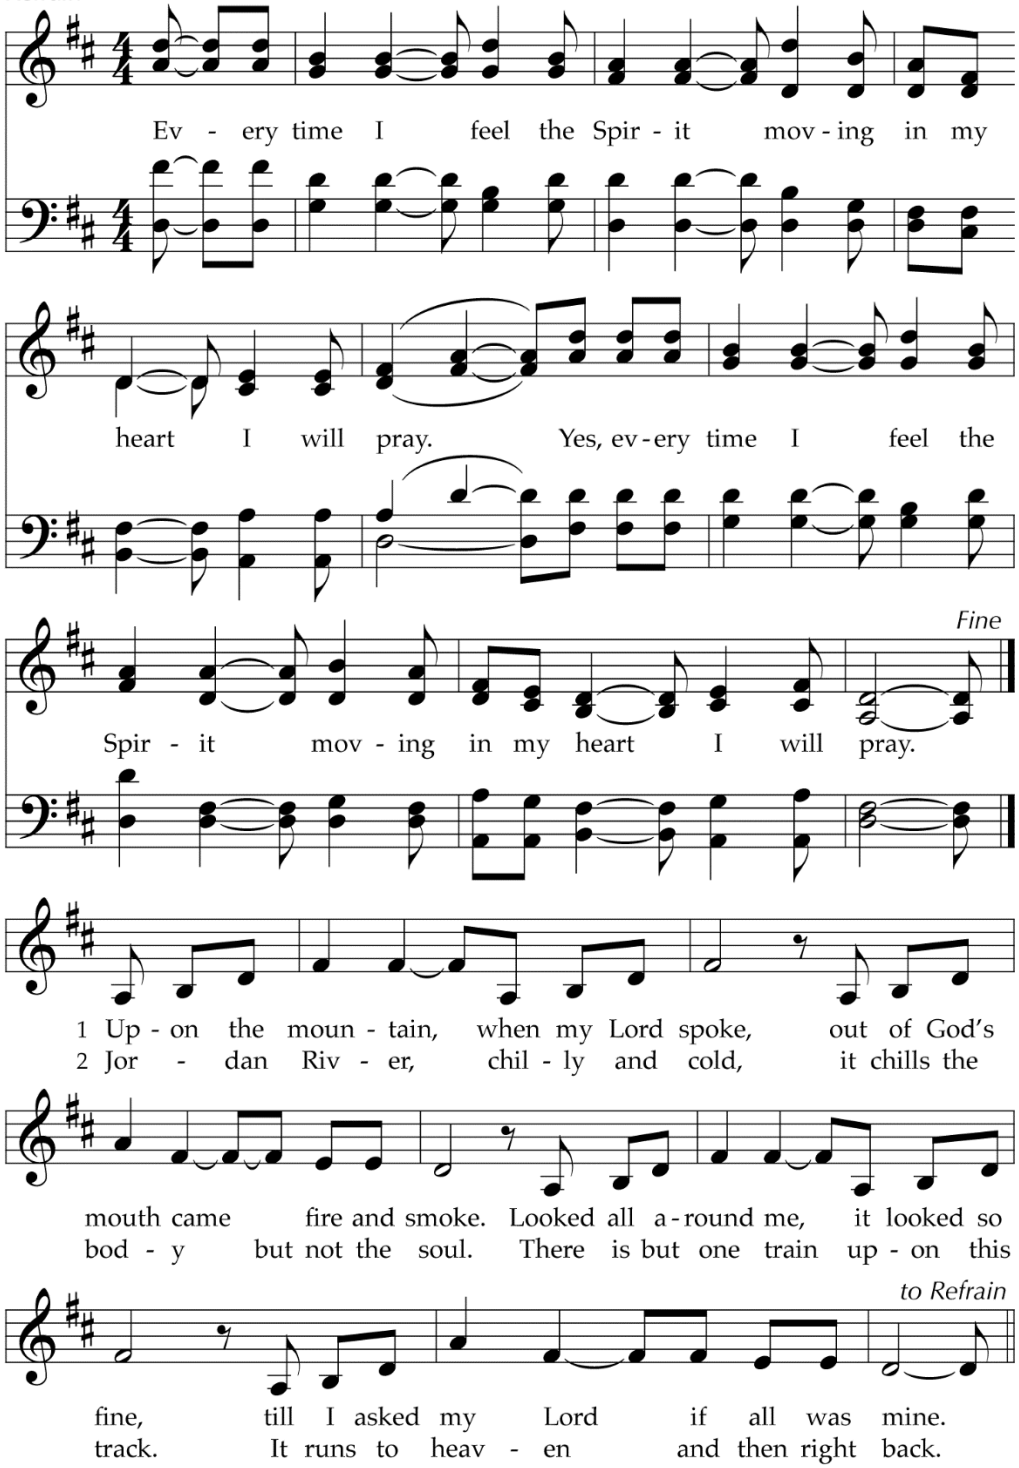
Refrain



Like many African American spirituals, this one mixes the language of biblical narrative with veiled but effective allusions to the hope of escape from slavery, either by crossing rivers into free states or by participating in organized efforts like the Underground Railroad.

Sunday Morning Fellowship

Please join us on Zoom for Fellowship on Sunday Mornings following Worship. The link for Sunday Morning Fellowship can be found in the Thursday email blast. If you would like to be added to the list to receive these emails, please contact the office.

Worship Pause for Effect

The Worship Committee recommended, and Session has approved, the canceling of worship on July 5th, 2020. This gives our pastor and staff a well deserved break from meeting the intense challenges of the past three months. We are indeed blessed to have them! Please consider this an opportunity to experience worship and communion with another church.

Mission Giving Report

- OGHS—Final tally on OGHS offering $7,566...ROCK STARS!!!!!
- PENTECOST offering update—$2,315 collected. $926 to East Penn School District Angel Network...AGAIN, YOU GUYS ARE ROCK STARS!!!

Per Capita Update

The per capita payment has portions sent to the Lehigh Presbytery, the Synod of the Trinity and the General Assembly to help pay for the operation expenses of those organizations.

As of 5/31 we have received $4250.00 towards our total payment of $9931.40. If you have not paid your per capita, please consider doing so.

The apportionment for 2020 is $39.10 per member.

Consign for GOOD

Regretfully, we will not be holding our Fall Consign for Good sale this year, due to continued COVID-19 restrictions and uncertainty. This hard decision was made out of concern for our consignors, volunteers and customers. We intend to regroup for the possibility of this event taking place again in 2021 later this year.

The work of the East Penn Neighbors Helping Neighbors group continues, however. You can visit http://www.epnhn.org/ to support their needs directly. Thank you.

21-Day Racial Equity Habit Building Challenge

Join Pastor Becki and your Faith Church Family on zoom in the 21-Day Racial Equity Habit Building Challenge. Visit https://www.debbyirving.com/21-day-challenge/ for a curated list of things to hear, watch, and read in an effort to learn more about issues of race and racism in our country. We'll meet Mondays at 6 PM for three weeks to reflect on what we're learning about our culture and ourselves. If you have any questions, please contact Pastor Becki at revmallozzi@faithchurchemmaus.org or via cell (in the directory). The link and password have been included in the weekly email blast. If you need to be added to the list, please contact the church office.

Vacation Bible School

Hope all of the kids are happy about the end of online school and homework and enjoying the beautiful summer weather. For obvious reasons we will not be holding our normal Vacation Bible School this year. Discipleship does have an online option we would like to offer our families if there is interest, but we also fully understand if you and your family are zoom'd out and not interested in another online activity. Please review format below and contact Cathy at cathyzwiese@gmail.com or 248-622-1672 with any questions or if your family would like to participate.

Dates: 6 weeks beginning 7/13

Format: as indicated below

Weeks 1/3/5
Each family accesses the online link which includes videos to learn the Bible story of the day, do an origami craft (no supplies needed other than paper), and find games and music. You can do this at any time during the week.

Weeks 2/4/6
Two to four Faith families along with a leader will meet for an hour via zoom to review the Bible Story, share what we learned, display our crafts, and sing/play together.

A link to view the curriculum is below.
https://www.gocurriculum.com/bolt-vbs

Age: This curriculum is appropriate for children entering grades K-6

Sign Up: There is no cost, but if we have families interested we will have an online sign up. We are opening registration to children and grandchildren of those who attend Faith, but are not opening it to the wider Emmaus community.

Thank you! Happy Summer and stay safe.

What Can Your Congregation Do About Racism?

"No one alive today created this mess, but everyone alive today has the power to work on undoing it."
(Debby Irving, Waking Up White, introduction)

The nation-wide protests continue. Change is happening, slowly but surely. Is your congregation part of the movement of White Christians standing against, speaking against, and working against systemic racism in our country? Are you wondering how your church can get involved?

Yesterday afternoon several Lehigh Presbytery pastors participated with me in a march and press conference to share a statement of confession and call for action for racial justice with POWER Lehigh Valley, a local interfaith, ecumenical group affiliated with the national Faith in Action organization. The text of the statement confesses the White church's silence, complicity in and failure to dismantle systems of racism in the U.S., particularly in the Christian community. Maybe your congregation, adult study group, or youth could study the statement. It would provide great material for a lively discussion!

In a recent Presbyterian News Service article, "Beyond protests, how can you and your church bring change?", Rev. Jimmie Hawkins, Director of the Office of Public Witness offers several suggestions for Presbyterian congregations who want to get involved. "Presbyterians are at a new stage," Hawkins said. "The level of engagement in full activism is at an all-time high. People are starting to say, 'This is something where I think I can make a difference, and I want my church to be engaged.' That's something I hear a lot. They want their church to be more engaged. The church is filled with human resources, and they're probably the most under-utilized resource in our denomination."

Hawkins suggests a number of actions to bring about change beyond participating in protest marches, which is not something everyone can do. His ideas include engaging at the local level by attending city council meetings or even running for a local office. Another suggestion is facilitating conversations between the community and the local police department. I have seen this work very effectively as a way for a congregation to become more visible in the community and demonstrate their concern about their neighbors.

Another important way to make a difference is by getting to know the Black people and people of color in your community. "We engage in this work, and we never talk to the people on whose behalf we're engaging," Hawkins said. Having conversations that include deep listening is an important starting point in forming partnerships for bringing about change. As Lisa, a member of Church of the Mountain, so eloquently points out, we must open our eyes to the view from a Black person's window.

Finally, Lehigh Presbytery leaders and I are hoping to offer anti-racism training, perhaps in partnership with neighboring Presbyteries or the Synod, in the near future. We will keep you posted. Meanwhile, contact me with questions or if you have other ideas about how we might work on these issues together.

Grace and peace,
Rhonda

Rev. Rhonda Kruse, Transitional Presbytery Leader

For such a time as this, the congregations and leadership of Lehigh Presbytery will partner to challenge and resource each other, so that we may boldly risk our comfort for the sake of the Gospel of Christ.

Workshops for . . . church members . . . ruling elders . . . ministers

The Lackawanna, Lehigh, and Northumberland Presbyteries are offering a series of FREE workshops via zoom on topics of concern to our churches.

On June 3, 2020 we were honored to have Rev. Cindy Kohlmann, Co-Moderator of the Presbyterian Church (USA), speak to us on the complexities of returning to our sanctuaries in the midst of the current Pandemic. It was a very informative time and if you missed joining us, we encourage you to take the time to view this presentation on you tube. We have posted this link on our website along with the document she shared.

On Wednesday, June 10, 2020 we were honored to have both Rev. Ellie Johns-Kelley and Karl Mattison from the Presbyterian Foundation to address the effects COVID-19 had on stewardship and giving and share best practices for now and in the future. It was a very informative time and if you missed joining us, we encourage you to take the time to view this presentation on you tube. We have posted this link on our website along with the document they shared.

Join us for the third and final workshop

The third and final workshop will be on Tuesday, June 16, 2020 from 1:00-3:00 p.m. on the Expanded Table: Ideas for a Hybridized Worship Experience Between People on Zoom and People in Person. Former PC(USA) Moderator Rev. Bruce Reyes-Chow will lead us in a conversation about how churches' new ways of worshipping can be combined with pre-COVID-19 worship as a both/and rather than an either/or.

If you have not registered yet for this workshop, you can do so by going to tinyurl.com/LLNCovidWorkshops After registering a confirmation email with the zoom link will be emailed to you.

Writing your own 'money autobiography'

June 12, 2020
Craig Birrell/Unsplash

The most common way a sermon about money goes wrong is when people hear guilt and shame rather than grace and gratitude. These emotions are not helpful. But like weeds in spring, guilt and shame seem to always emerge when talking about money. The antidote is to be clear that everything that is good in our life springs from the well of grace — God's undeserved and unmerited favor— and the only appropriate response to grace is gratitude. Theologian Karl Barth said it beautifully when he wrote, "Gratitude follows grace as thunder follows lightning."

Barth borrowed from the apostle Paul, who is emphatic about God's goodness toward us. In 2 Corinthians 8, verses 1–15, Paul says, "God has given grace to the churches of Macedonia." As a result of that grace, the churches — even though they were suffering what Paul described as "extreme poverty" — were overflowing with generosity. They were begging to give to others. What's most remarkable is the absence of talk about how much money was available to give. That was beside the point. And it can be beside the point for us today, too.

Giving out of joy begins with a change in how we decide what to give. What most of us do is measure our resources against our expenses. We then determine what we can do when we are faced with invitations to give. When measuring our resources against our expenses, we often conclude that we have little to give. We then hold back in sharing what we have.

A Haitian farmer told me this proverb: "The one who never eats alone will never go hungry." It was his way of saying that when you share what little you have, you will always have enough for yourself. And when we share what we have with others, it creates a groundswell of gratitude in the hearts of many, who in turn share what they have with others. Our sharing becomes part of a much larger work of God in the world.

To get to this generosity that comes from a place of joy — not from measuring our resources against our expenses — I suggest writing your money autobiography. A money autobiography has been one of the most helpful exercises I have ever done. Developed by the Faith and Money Network, a nonprofit equipping people to transform their relationship with money, the money autobiography can be used individually, with sessions and committees, or with an entire congregation. It's simple, but the effects are enormous.

The money autobiography helps you understand your relationship to money, uncovering attitudes that formed as early as childhood. It's a simple journaling exercise with writing prompts that ask you to focus on your relationship with money. As you begin to observe patterns, you may find clues to how you might change your giving patterns to ones that are more joyful and more generous. Remember, it's not about the amount you have. It's about the joy of giving.

SHARE WHAT MINISTRY AND MISSION YOUR CHURCH IS ENGAGING IN DURING THE PANDEMIC

What are the new and exciting ways you are reaching out to your members and community?

Please share with us pictures of any ministry/mission (new, old, expanded, etc.) that is occurring in your congregation during this time of pandemic along with a short description of who and what is in the image.

For example…..Are you making masks, holding blood drives, or have a community food pantry? These are just a few examples.

Your pictures and stories will be featured in one of our upcoming newsletters so others in the Presbytery can celebrate your ministry. Please email them to office@lehighpresbytery.org

We will also share these photos and descriptions with the Synod of the Trinity, who is putting together a collage from around

224th General Assembly (2020) of the Presbyterian Church (USA) June 19, 26-27, 2020 – ONLINE – LIVESTREAMED

Due to the COVID019 pandemic, the 224th General Assembly (2020) will be held online June 19, 26-27, 2020. The docket has been abbreviated to address critical business issues.

For the first time in our denomination's history, we are preparing for a General Assembly that will be totally online. The Committee on the Office of the General Assembly has had to make some difficult decisions as we looked at numerous options ranging from a full assembly agenda to our final decision to shorten the assembly and to focus solely on critical business issues.

In making these decisions we recognize that these unusual times prevent us from living into the fullness of who we are. Part of the grief COVID-19 has invited into our lives is the inability to be fully ourselves within the parameters of what we can do with what we have in a particular time frame. In other words, the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) is much more than standing rules, budgets, and elections. As our Stated Clerk recently said, "We are not divorcing ourselves from the work of social justice." We are about justice. We are advocacy. We are theological and we are prophetic. But in these times of a pandemic, this is the necessary response in considering the health and well-being of the hosting community, commissioners, advisory delegates, observers, and staff.

We ask the church to join us as we step into these uncertain times with the faith and certainty that God will sustain and embolden us into the future.

On Easter Sunday 1949, four years after the end of World War II, the One Great Hour of Sharing offering brought relief to neighbors in need within the United States for the first time. In the 1960s, it expanded to include international needs.

The 2020 OGHS theme, "You shall be called repairers of the breach," is taken from Isaiah 58:12. Whether it's a pot of savory soup to feed hungry souls, a flower placed on a cross for a $5 donation or fishbowls stuffed with coins donated by Sunday school classes, all these creative efforts contribute to God's work through Presbyterian Mission.

The Soup Supper began as an outreach to help people experiencing homelessness in the community. It continues today to serve individuals and communities in need all around the world.

THE PC(USA) STORE https://www.pcusastore.com/

We at PC(USA) Store stand in solidarity with the protesters who are crying out for justice for all the victims of the insidious racism that has infected our society for far too long. To all those risking your safety by lifting your voices, we say be strong, and be safe.

Additionally, we believe that in order to fully support people of color, we must educate ourselves, have conversations with each other, and figure out how we can work to create a more just society. Below are resources intended to begin anti-racism work either individually or with your church community.

For Beautiful Black Boys Who Believe in a Better World
This discussion and activity guide includes suggestions on how parents and teachers can talk with children about race and violence, ideas on how to create a safe space for meaningful dialogue, and more. It was written by the Muhammad Ali Center in Louisville, KY, a multicultural center and museum committed to promoting respect, hope, and understanding.

The guide is inspired by For Beautiful Black Boys Who Believe in a Better World, an upcoming picture book by Michael W. Waters that will be available this September. It tells the story of a boy named Jeremiah and his family who discover hopeful forms of activism and advocacy in response to racism and gun violence in their community.

ANTI-RACISM BOOKS & RESOURCES

Good White Racist?
Confronting Your Role in Racial Injustice
Kerry Connelly exposes the ways white people participate in, benefit from, and unknowingly perpetuate racism—despite their best "good person" intentions. Readers will learn that even though it may not be our fault or choice to participate in a racist system, we all do, and it's our responsibility to do something about it.
